uites before 9 o'clock, when the storm broke in all its fury, the turnstiles at the main entrance showed that nearly 9,000 people had passed within the inclosure, and still every car going west was packed and jammed. The Casino was almost full of people when the rain began to fall, and before they could get under cover many were soaked. The special feature of the evening's anusement was to be a freworks off before they do not be seen that the seen to come down an attempt was made to set the freworks off before they had gotton too wet It was too late, however, and only one of the set pleces burned. All the attractions along the boardwalk, nowever, did capacity business throughout the evening, especially during the rain. When it was seen that there could be no show or fleworks that crowd throughed the dancing paylition, where the park band was furnishing the misit.

One of the new attractions opened at the park was Mons. Voro, who does a mystifying act, in which he trees himself after heling bound to a stake. For this week the program includes Charles Littlefield, the mimic; the Keeley Brothers, bag punchers, and Vicia and Engel, comedy acrobats. Matinees are given daily in the openal in the store of the good.
